HLPS CELEBRATES 104TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE HILLSBORO LIGHTHOUSE

The 104th anniversary of the Hillsboro Lighthouse was celebrated March 12th with Hillsboro Lighthouse Preservation Society (HLPS) President Art Makenian making a proclamation from the steps of the lighthouse in front of hundreds of HLPS members, volunteers, visitors and invited guests. The public celebration ceremony honored the former Lighthouse Keepers and the lighthouse being placed into service in 1907.

Over 500 visitors enjoyed tours of the Hillsboro Inlet Lighthouse and Museum, with the days' festivities including boat rides to and from the light station from Hillsboro Inlet Park, and a BBQ staffed by HLPS member Dan Devendorf and family, supported by Bob and Terry O'Connell and friends.

Special guests included USCG District 7 Chief of Staff Captain Scott Buschman, USCG Commanding Officer of Station Fort Lauderdale Lieutenant

Douglas Watson, Hillsboro Beach Mayor Carmen McGarry and Vice Mayor Dan Dodge.

Capt. Buschman made a presentation acknowledging HLPS enduring efforts as keepers of the light, and pledging the full support of the Coast Guard and Coast Guard Auxiliary. "While GPS helps us navigate now, that wasn't always so, and lighthouses were a critical part of our navigation

FROM THE PRESIDENT

A huge success! The 104th anniversary lighthouse tour was like no other tour ever conducted in the past. HLPS took great pride in seeing the Hillsboro Lighthouse on the cover of The Real Yellow Pages. Every household and business in the vicinity of our lighthouse will have this book on their shelves or desks; you can read more about the tour in this edition of The Big Diamond.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the dedicated volunteers of HLPS for the contribution of their time and resources...it is their devotion to HLPS and the Hillsboro Lighthouse that made this last tour, and all the other events the greatest. Also, a great thank you to my very special volunteer colleagues of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and their parent organization, the U.S. Coast Guard 7th District. A special thank you goes to AT&T The Real Yellow Pages, who considered our lighthouse worthy to be on the cover of their new issue. Finally, a very special thank you to the City of Pompano Beach Parks and Recreation Department for allowing us to use Hillsboro Inlet Park for this great event.

Now it is time for us to move forward, and there are several major projects facing us in the months ahead. Per my last report, the long overdue Commemorative Brick Patio project is scheduled to start in the second week of May. That work will coincide with the installation of a new lawn sprinkler system at the Hillsboro Inlet Light Station, along with other improvements to the Keepers' and Assistant Keepers' cottages. During that same period, we plan to install a Web cam to provide monitoring of the ocean inlet conditions via the HLPS website. Despite all this activity, the Coast Guard assures us that our May 14th tour should not be affected – and it should be noted that the shuttle boat boarding will be back to the Sands Hotel Dock.

Looking around the lighthouse station, I cannot help noticing the very sad condition of the original Barefoot Mailman statue. It is crumbling to pieces, with broken fingers and heel, the dagger missing, and the body considerably cracked. Let's not forget that at that very location, James E. Hamilton lost his life while in the line of duty delivering mail from Palm Beach to Miami. That man was a pioneer and a martyr, and it is distressing that the local community residents may not be aware that the original statue was erected on that same spot as a memorial monument.

Our research indicates that raising approximately $45,000 dollars can replace the existing statue with a more permanent bronze replica. Therefore, I strongly urge all HLPS members to consider donating towards the HLPS Barefoot Mailman Replacement Fund for the purchase of a bronze replica of the existing original stone statue. Every penny of that money is tax deductible, and plans are for a bronze plaque to be placed at the foot of the new statue with the contributors names' embossed on it for all donations over $500.

In the weeks ahead, I will be personally sending a letter to every resident of Hillsboro Beach and the Hillsboro Mile, specifically asking those residents to open their wallets to assist in this project. The entire lighthouse property is a National Register of Historic Places site, declared by Department of the Interior on November 28, 1978. That means that your name on a bronze plaque, the bronze barefoot mailman statue and the lighthouse will remain there long after we are all gone.

Our HLPS administrative volunteers are doing well at the present. However, the clock is ticking and we are not getting any younger. We desperately need younger volunteers to come and join us and eventually take over the responsibilities to keep the most powerful light in the world shining.

While on that subject, it was during our last membership meeting that our past President and one of the founding members of HLPS, Hib Casselberry (otherwise known as Mr. Florida Lighthouse by many), announced his retirement as an active Board member, stating that he will step aside from his duties as a Director to make way for a new and younger generation of people. Hib was more than all the titles you can think of, and he has devoted every ounce of his life not only for our lighthouse, but to all other lighthouses in the State of Florida and to this great country. Considering his age, his energy and devotion will never be duplicated!

Art Makenian

The mission of the Hillsboro Lighthouse Preservation Society is to promote the history of the Hillsboro Inlet Light Station and the Hillsboro Inlet area through preservation of structures and artifacts, education and public access tours.

Auxiliary Division 3 and more than a dozen HLPS member volunteers were on hand to answer questions from tour guests and provide historical insight into the lighthouse and grounds.

Art Makenian told those gathered that it is the HLPS members and volunteers who must be thanked for making the restoration and maintenance of the Hillsboro Lighthouse successful over the years. "It's the work and dedication of our members and volunteers that make us what we are," he said.

Carmen McGarry, Mayor of Hillsboro Beach, was a founding member of HLPS in 1997 and HLPS President from October 2005 through 2008, took time to thank the Coast Guard and HLPS, and pledged her full support to HLPS.

Mr. Prescott said that this year AT&T wanted The Real Yellow Pages directory to reflect community pride in the lighthouse where everyone could see it – right on the front cover. "We're excited about the opportunity to showcase this historic landmark on the cover for everyone to enjoy throughout the year," Prescott said.

HLPS STARTS FUND TO REPLACE BAREFOOT MAILMAN STATUE AT HILLSBORO INLET LIGHT STATION

A Special Insert

Presiding over the waterfront of Hillsboro Inlet Light Station is a silent, mysterious figure who is in need of replacement.

In 1973, the ten-foot-tall stone statue by artist Frank Varga was erected in front of The Barefoot Mailman restaurant in Hillsboro Beach. When the restaurant went out of business, the town moved the statue in front of the Town Hall. In 2003, the statue was moved to the Hillsboro Inlet Light Station, where it has suffered at the hands of Mother Nature and the occasional vandal.

Nearly 40 years of exposure to the elements has left the statue in dreadful condition, with broken fingers, a broken heel, chipping concrete and peeling paint plaguing the statue. Vandals broke off the statue's dagger, inflicting nearly irreparable damage to the monument.

The Project

To preserve the memory and commemorate the careers of the Barefoot Mailmen, and to honor the “legend” of the most famous Barefoot Mailman of all, Ed Hamilton, the Hillsboro Lighthouse Preservation Society (HLPS) has created a campaign and fund to replace the concrete statue with a bronze version of the same.

The estimated total cost for the permanent bronze replica is approximately $45,000, and donations over $500 would place the donor's name on the Keepers' bronze plaque at the base of the new statue.

Cultural Value to the Light Station

“HLPS primary desire is to honor the Barefoot Mailmen and certainly to recognize Ed Hamilton's mysterious disappearance at the Hillsboro Inlet,” noted statue committee chairman and HLPS President, Art Makenian. “While we are seeking grants to assist in offsetting the effort, HLPS is seeking donations and sponsorship that will enable the replacement of this lasting tribute to one of America's iconic figures.”

Reminding area residents of this beautiful and important structure throughout the year is a tremendous benefit to our efforts of preserving the lighthouse so it can provide safe navigation for future generations of boaters.”

During the HLPS membership meeting, Mr. Hibbert Casselberry announced his decision that he will be retiring as an active board member. “While he may not admit it, like the Hillsboro Lighthouse, Hib is an iconic figure in HLPS and the South Florida area,” Art Makenian said. “He has been a past HLPS President, currently acts as the archivist for HLPS, and has been a Florida lighthouse history researcher and archivist since 1970. His dedication to all things related to Florida lighthouses, and particularly the Hillsboro Lighthouse, are truly appreciated by the Board of Directors of HLPS.”

Mr. Casselberry, who often can be found talking to kids of all ages in the Lighthouse

Museum during tours, was instrumental in garnering Coast Guard approval of the Centennial Brick Patio; its construction starts on May 18th. “There is still time for HLPS members and the general public to have their special message engraved on a brick as part of the Centennial Brick Patio Program,” said Casselberry, “And I hope everyone will take the time to order one from our Web site to become part of a lasting tribute.”

The Hillsboro Lighthouse Preservation Society would like to thank the United States Coast Guard, the Town of Hillsboro Beach, the City of Pompano Beach, AT&T and the member volunteers of HLPS for their contributions to the celebration.
